

AVI ON DEMAND ONLINE TECHNICIAN TRAINING

ASE-A8 Test Prep

Knowing they have "made the grade," ASE certified technicians gain a real sense of accomplishment and pride in their hard work. Attaining A8 Engine Performance Certification is the last step to being recognized as an ASE-Certified Master Automobile Technician and is required as a prerequisite to register for the L1 Advanced Engine Performance Specialist test, the highest certification for the Automobile and Light Duty Truck category. Taking the journey to become A1-A8 certified not only provides personal satisfaction it also offers greater recognition from your peers and enhances the image of the auto repair industry as a whole.

Throughout each step of the A Series certification process you are further improving your knowledge of the diagnostics and repair of various vehicle systems. Becoming an ASE Master Technician is a difficult task that requires a great deal of knowledge and determination. Becoming A8 certified is a great accomplishment and puts you on the road to a fantastic career.
